

Alyssa Schnee- baum's Coaching Profile: Breaking Barriers, Realizing Potential

Personalized professional coaching is a powerful tool to help enable people to realize their full potential. Coaching serves to meet people where they are and help them figure out their next steps, with knowledgeable guidance, appropriate challenges, and positive support. It is oftentimes the new perspective of an experienced, external coach that helps us see our next right steps.

With over two decades of academic experience and a proven track record of empowering individuals, I offer specialized coaching services tailored to address inequalities and barriers in the workplace, particularly those related to gender-specific issues.

Expertise

Drawing from my extensive scientific background, I specialize in identifying and dismantling the barriers that hinder professional growth, especially gender-based discrimination and challenges faced by women in the workforce. From combating exclusion and harassment to navigating glass ceilings, imposter syndrome, and being left out of networks, I provide targeted, empathetic, and knowledgeable guidance to help you move towards success. Additionally, I offer expertise in addressing issues specific to LGBTQIA+ individuals, supporting employers and colleagues in fostering inclusive environments and supporting LGBTQIA+ members of their teams.

Inclusive Approach

Much of my work is focused on addressing challenges that disproportionately affect women, sexual minorities, and gender identity minorities in the workforce. However, my coaching services are open to all individuals striving to achieve their fullest potential. Together, we navigate the complexities of the professional landscape, fostering an environment where everyone can thrive and succeed.

Proven Track Record

Having mentored and advised dozens of employees and having led both small and large teams of my own, I bring a wealth of experience to the table. My approach is rooted in personalized support, tailored to meet the unique needs and aspirations of each individual client.

Empowerment Through Collaboration

We often believe we must navigate our career journeys alone. The truth is, seeking support and guidance is a demonstration of strength and ability. Together, we can conquer obstacles, shatter ceilings, and unlock your full potential.

Are you ready to take the next step towards realizing your career aspirations? Let's embark on this transformative journey together

I look forward to working with you
